

M00M.2—Ladder on a Wall

Problem

A uniform ladder leans against a frictionless vertical wall and rests on a frictionless horizontal floor. It is released from rest, with the ladder and the floor initially making an angle α . At some point, the ladder will separate from the wall. Determine the angle the ladder makes with the floor when this happens.

