

J09M.3 - Falling Rod

Problem

A massive uniform rod of length l starts to slide away from a frictionless vertical wall onto the frictionless horizontal floor. Assume that the bottom of the rod starts at rest in the corner, i.e., the rod is initially vertical. Calculate the angle θ the rod makes with the wall when it first loses contact with a surface.